

Life Experience Required

Are you 50+ and in a Life Transition?
Are you seeking Revitalization and Creative Renewal?

Seeking: Pro Bono Nonprofit Organization and Nonprofit Service Coaches

Apply to become a Legacy Leader

- Use your leadership, energy, talent and skills to make a meaningful contribution in your Community;
- Increase your knowledge & learn specific new skills with an emphasis on nonprofit coaching.
- Meet new and interesting people who are also seeking challenges

At no cost to you, you can participate in the Legacy Leadership Institute on Pro Bono Service: a professionally staffed lifelong learning program that develops informed, motivated and committed leaders to support individual and organization transitions.

Legacy signifies our mission to serve as intergenerational ambassadors who are committed to preserving the wisdom of experience, applying knowledge to community need in the present, and transferring these gifts to future generations.

The Legacy Leadership Institute sessions exceeded my expectations at virtually every turn. I met high class, talented instructors and students and received important training on topics that will help me to make a smooth transition into exciting new roles as I approach the career change called retirement. -Legacy Leader Alumni

What is a Legacy Leadership Institute?

The Legacy Leadership Institute combines lifelong learning and civic engagement and brings the expertise of the 50+ population to our community through education, leadership and service.

Legacy signifies our mission to serve as intergenerational ambassadors who are committed to preserving the wisdom of experience, applying knowledge to community need in the present, and transferring these gifts to future generations. The Institute is based on an international model of lifelong learning and civic engagement.

What is Pro bono?

A Latin phrase meaning "for the good" sometimes stated as pro bono publico, for the good of the public. A term used to designate professional work undertaken voluntarily, as a public service.

Your Perfect Job Description

- Help nonprofits develop new and meaningful roles for individuals and teams who are looking for long term community commitments
- Coach to create programs of significance for individuals and teams to complete on a fixed time schedule
- Create new services or infrastructure and provide ongoing leadership for the new function
- Coach individuals interested in transitioning to work or serve in the nonprofit sector.

Requirements

Attend all classroom sessions and serve a minimum of 250 hours following your classroom experience with the support of community builders and professionals from Montgomery County Volunteer Center and the University of Maryland Center on Aging.

Applications/Sign-up

Please note that due to the competitive selection process and the limited number of spaces available in this Institute, applications and interviews will be a required process for determining participation. To increase your opportunity to participate please apply early. Do it now!
